OF ROCK ISLAND

Congressman Green Compares Operations With Those of New Haven and Frisco Systems.

Washington, February 26.—Bitter criticism of the Rock Island Railway and its financfal operations to-day were raised in the House by Representative Green, of lowa, speaking in support of his resolution to authorize the Interstate Commerce Commission to make an investigation of that road. The speaker compared the operations of the Rock Island to those of the New Haven and Frisco systems, already under investigation, and declared that the plan under which the holding companies controlled the finances of the Rock Island was utterly indefensible.

Through the manipulation of the holding companies, Dr. Green assertell, $121,000,000 of water was poured upon the railway company's stocks and bonds, while the fixed charges of the road had been increased from 40 to 90 per cent.

"The railway company never received."

road had been increased from 40 to 30 per cent.

"The railway company never received one dollar's benefit by or through the stock issued by the helding companies," he declared. "It's issue affords financial free-booters in opportunity to exploit the railway and the public."

The speaker further charged that the millions of securities floated by the holding companies, "were put up merely for the aggrandizement of a few men without any return being given."

few men without any return being given."

Referring to the equipment in the Rock Island, he said:

"It is reported that it has spent $6,000,000 since 1907 for equipment alone, and still it is known that it has not been properly supplied. A chorus of complaints has gone up from the public all along the line for lack of proper service, trains behind time, in-ability to move traille, and the road has been heavily mulcted in damages by reason of delayed freight. Wrecks have been frequent, and only good fortune has prevented the casualty roll from being large."

Wigs for Dandies.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

New York, February 26.—Powdered hair and a general tendency to the revival of the styles of 1830 is predicted by J. M. Giddings, of this city, who returned to-day from a visit to Paris, where he spent several weeks in purchasing models from Paris dressmakers.

In addition to the powdering of the hair, Mr. Giddings says a "pompadour effect, given by flowers," will also be favored by the fashionable woman in the coming season as a variation of the colored wig fad, which may be expected to spread rapidly.

"The general idea," said Mr. Giddings, "is found in the style of 1830, which seems to be taking very well. Everything is fluffy, and the idea of bouffants will be adopted more than ever before.

"Later on skirts with slits in the back instead of the front, may be adopted. I expect also to see plainer overtunic effects. Jackets will be short and loose, with slik as the predominating material. Roman stripes and plaids

R. F. D. Carrier to Use Camel in Delivering Mail

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Altavista, Va., February 26.—J. L.

Kirkpatrick, enterprising rural letter carrier out of Evington, Campbell County, is about to introduce the camel as a more rapid means of getting mail matter to his patrons.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was the first in this part of the country to use an automobile, having previously tried the bicycle, the ordinary horse, and then a fast race horse, but since the recent ruling of the Postmaster-General in raising the weight of parcel post packages from twenty to fifty pounds, he found that the bicycle, horse and automobile have become inndequate, thus he conceived the idea of a camel as a burden bearer and as a swifter means of transporting the mail.

He first took up the matter with the show people at their winter quarters at Brilgeport, Conn., who referred him to an importer in New York City, with whom he is now negotiating for the purchase of "a ship of the desert." Mr. Kirkpatrick believes that a camel will soon become accilmated, or at least can be used aliae months of the year in this part of Virginia. If he consummates the deal, in all probability it will be the first instance in which a camel is used as a mail carrier in Araerlen. [Special to The Times-Disputch.]

Says Crystal Springs Lady, "To the Road to Happiness, and They All Thank Me Now"

Crystal Springs, Miss .- In advices from this town, Mrs. C. Barton gives praise due to it. I know it put me on my feet, after all other medicines had failed.

Last summer I was down flat on my back with womaniy troubles. I was so uneasy. Could not walk at times, and it hurt me to sit down. I am very fond of reading all kinds of books, especially if they have anything to say about suffering women. One day I was reading the Ladies' Birthday Almanac, and saw what the Cardul Home Treatment had done for other ladies, so I decided to try it. After using a full treatment (6 bottles), I got fat and stout, and don't look or feel like the same woman. I would not be without Cardui in the house now. It is certainly the medicine for ailing women. I loaned my book to some of my suffering lady friends, and they are now using Cardul, and they are all thanking me for putting them next to the road to health and happiness." Follow the example of Mrs. Barton. Begin taking Cardui to-day. At
